George was an awesome person who definitely had a sense of humor! He loved bringing everyone together...He was the Go-to person for family history. We always loved hearing his stories about the weather in Naples when the Hurricanes came thru. He loved his family, and we are grateful that we could all get together. George loved to build and fix things, helping Stevie with the designer chicken coop. Watching Jesse and George was a real treat, they were inseparable, and he was an incredible care taker. He will be terribly missed!!! He will live on in all our memories!!
