“ My Dear Sister,

It's been two weeks and I still can't comprehend that you're done with this life.

I've read, "When a parent dies, you lose the past. When a child dies, you lose the future. When a sibling dies, you lose both the past and the future."

My mind keeps running back to 59th & Penn... You & I being little kids, playing games like Kick-the-can, Hide-n-seek and Freeze-tag with the all of the neighborhood kids. We used to walk to and from school at Armitage, along with walking home for lunch too, no matter the weather!

My mind keeps running back to watching you & George build your first new home in Apple Valley/Lakeville. Then you guys made the gutsy jump and moved your family to Florida and made it work! I then watched you build your second new home in Oviedo to raise your family and settle into life in Florida.

Now my mind freezes at the future we never got to have, 20 or 30 years of future. This make me profoundly sad, it makes my heart hurt.

I will miss you forever.

“ Dear George and Family, I wanted you to know how much Kathy will be truly missed by her coworkers. This is just a small sample of the people I was able to get to. She was respected by all she made people laugh and smile and truly cared for all. The hospital halls will be empty without her smile. Rest in peace Kathy “ Kathy and I shared a wonderful friendship over the past 31 years and I am going to miss our bi-weekly phone conversations. She loved her hubby to the moon and back and couldn't get enough of her grandchildren. Her love for animals was so apparent and she enjoyed talking about them. Gonna miss you girl.

“ Kathy came into my life as a little sister and left as a strong, loving, independent, caring woman. We didn't see each other often, but stayed in touch by phone. She loved her husband George, was super proud of her children Stacia and Cory and went on and on about her grand babies. My heart is broken but it is there she will live forever. Love you sis... “ I am sitting in my car still in major disbelief. The sun is shining on my face and I feel the Warmth of the love you had for your little brother. I am remembering all the amazing things and places you took me to. Thanks for always being there for a quick call or a text. God gave me one Sister and I feel very lucky because you were amazing. Go with God sissy.your little brother Jeff will keep you close to his heart until we meet again on the other side. Love you!!

“ Kathy,

I can't believe you are not here anymore. It still seems unreal. You made my life a little better because you were part of it. The hours of talks and laughs we had will always be treasured memories. Thank you for the stories, recipes, and kind words you always had on hand. You were taken away far too soon, but your family and friends will keep your memory alive in our hearts for the rest of our days.

Be at peace my friend. I will miss you.
