“ *Tyree,
I wish I could be with you and your family on this day, however I can't. Just know I am there in spirit, and I'm holding your hand. just some words of encouragement. Your Mom was very beautiful and she raised you up to be a very respectful man, remember only the good memories you have with her, and she will forever live in your heart. I love you Booki, and as always praying for the entire family!!!*

“ Tyree,

No one can prepare you for loss; it comes like a swift wind. Chares and I give our condolences to you and your family on the passing of your mother, Latasha.

We know that it is hard to bear right now, but remember that death is only the end of the physical life and the beginning of an eternal life with our Father in heaven.

May God forgive and accept your mother's soul into the Garden of Eden, near the throne of whom she seek and loved. May my friendship and prayers ease you through this difficult time.

With everlasting love,

Chares and Odessa Hunter

“Latasha was a wonderful woman, beautiful inside and out. She was a woman who cared deeply about making our community a better place and became President of the Englewood Park Neighborhood Association, where she strived to make changes for the good of the entire neighborhood, especially the children. Her passion in the concern of others was heartwarming, as she moved to make a difference in the lives of her neighbors. Her love extended to those she didn't know.

She was concerned about the welfare of the children in our neighborhood, especially those whose families were at, or below poverty level. She took action and enlisted the neighborhood in donating food for the pantries at our elementary and middle schools, and she was enormously successful.

She was someone who's heart was so good and genuine, and her concerns so honest that she watched over her elderly neighbor without him even knowing. While not wanting to infringe on his privacy, she was creative enough to ask him to leave his newspaper on her front porch so that she would know that he was okay.

She spoke of proudly of her son, and with such joy. She wanted what was best for him, even if it meant being separated from him while he was in New York, as she remained in Orlando.

She was my friend. I will miss her beautiful face, her big smile and her cute giggles. I will always remember the times we shared, and I will hold her in my heart as the kind and caring soul that she was. Peace be with you my friend.

May her family take comfort in the wonderful memories of time spent, and may peace be with you, as you move forward. Love lives on...
