“ A sweet girl that accidentally got into some unfavorable things but never a dangerous hurtful person. Extremely educated and very sharp witted. She was my neighbor who used to come by and fell in love with the English television show Keeping up Appearances. She loved how the main character reminded her of one of her aunts . She loved olives. I used to cook for her and we would have good conversations. Rest in peace my ex neighbor. Orlando, Florida never knew how to do anything right, and it looks like it never will. I'm sorry you found out the hard way that Orlando, Fl. is the most hellish place on Earth.

This is Melissa's mom. I never knew this page was even here until today. Your words mean so much to me, its a beautiful window into her life. Yes she did tell me how much she LOVED the show Keeping up Appearance. I wish she had a chance to start over. Life was hard and cruel and mean to her, she lost her way/ I cry every day still, missing her. I will see her one day again and hold her so tight. She left behind a wonderful son and a beautiful daughter. She would tell me about Florida and I can still hear her say "Don't Let The Palm Trees Fool You". Rest in Peace my beloved daughter Melissa, till we are together again.
