“ It's been a couple of years now and I am now in high school in 10th grade. I recently remembered that this page was here. It's been tough. Whenever me and my family gather for birthdays or even family gatherings, it's hard not to notice that my grandparents aren't there now. But I know that they are, I just can't see them. I couldn't thank him more for being the grandfather he was to me. Now it's close to Thanksgiving, and all I can say is that I know I shouldn't be upset about it because he's happy and healthy now with my grandmother. I always imagined him being there for my last few birthdays, and it was tough to imagine but I was happy just thinking about him being there and smiling. If I could go back in time, I definitely would, just to spend more time with him than I already have done. I hope he is proud of me of who I became now. I am feeling so much better emotionally and a bit mentally. Thank you, and I miss you still very much. -Isabella Vestal, 11/18/2022

“ He was my Grandpa, but I always called him Papa. He would always put a smile on my face, make my day brighter. Me, my mom, my grandma were always the ones who were always by his side. I miss him alot. I was his granddaughter, and I wish I could say "I love you" one last time before he passed on, but I know that he is in my heart always and forever, guiding me, helping me, watching me. I miss you Papa, Love you --Isabella Vestal 11/22/19

“ Thank you Dad for always be there for me no matter what. For always hearing my side of the story. Thank you for always putting up with my annoying self and my bratty self. I will miss your stories and all the times you talked about your races and your race cars. I will miss all the times you have told me to follow my heart and that you believe that I can so whatever my heart wants. I will do everything i do in love for you. i will go to college and I will have John walk me down the aisle even though i know you wanted to. I am grateful for all the time we had with you. I am thankful for all the stories and the memories we all will cherish. I know you dont want us morning for you but we will always have you in our thoughts Dad I promise.
