“ *Kip and I loved Chuck so much. He was always cheerful and encouraging. I really got to know him when he helped us so much with remodeling the House at church. What a worker! I enjoyed him so much, and loved seeing him around the campus when he started working for City Church after that. He left us too soon from our point of view. But he is laughing with Jesus now. “ I'd planed to get to know Chuckie (my nephew) better. He had been in and out of my life since he was an infant. He was in Florida and I was in California.

There quite a few visits. Most notably, when I lived with Charlie and Joan a few months when I was 13. He was a very quiet, perhaps shy little boy. He was well behaved little guy and managed to stay out of mischief.

We interred his grandparents, Henry and Vesta Pariseau, at Arlington National Cemetery in April of 2016. Charlie, Chuckie, Nina, Tiffany and Brandon I had Chinese food for dinner. I was amazed at what a fine young man Chuckie had grown to be. Chuckie and his brother Leonard carried the urns as part of the ceremony. This was the first family reunion in over 30 years.

I realized in April how much I loved and missed my family and went to Florida in October. We all went to dinner at the Colorado Steakhouse in Sanford, said to be Chuckie's favorite restaurant. Sadly, that was the last time I saw him.

Nina and I have done stayed in close touch. I love Chuckie and Nina dearly.

I am going to visit the family in April and have a family memorial at Chuckie's favor restaurant. I'll miss Chuckie with all my heart. Aunt Liz

“ When I think of Chuck, I think of the days when he, Nina and I were about 10 or 11 years old. Nina was crazy about the new blonde-haired boy that moved in across the street, (Chuck). We would visit him by standing at his fence and chatting about anything that would hold his attention. One day, for a reason that escapes me, Nina had an idea that we quickly put into action. To gain Chucks attention and let him know how much he was loved, we cut up an onion and held it to our eyes to make us cry. :) We continued this until we we halted by her aunt. Chuck didn't notice Nina's attempt of affection, that day, but would eventually come to love his neighbor and spend his life by her side. Chucks beautiful smile will be welcomed in heaven by so many beautiful people. May God bless you, Nina, and your family, as you deal with your loss. -Donna
