

Raybert Bryan Warner

December 2, 1960 - August 26, 2025

Raybert (“Ray”) Bryan Warner, 64, of Orlando, Florida, passed away peacefully on August 26, 2025. Born on December 2, 1960, in Madison, West Virginia, Raybert was a devoted follower of Jesus and a man who embraced life with a passion for a wide variety of hobbies and interests.

Raybert enjoyed a respected career in the technology industry, contributing significantly during his tenures at Texas Instruments and Raytheon. His work was marked by innovation, commitment, and a passion for excellence that left a lasting impact on colleagues and the companies he served.

Throughout his life, Raybert faced several challenges with courage and grace, including battles with multiple forms of cancer. His faith and resilience were a source of strength to those around him.

He was predeceased by his loving parents, Alma J. Warner and Raybert Rushwood Warner. Raybert is survived by his sisters, Janet Warner and Ina McAfee (Ted); his brother, James Warner (Kimberly); his niece, Katrina Warner; and his nephew, Jarrett Warner. He also leaves behind numerous aunts, uncles, cousins, and extended family members who will dearly miss his presence.

Raybert’s warmth, kindness, and dedication to family and friends were hallmarks of his life. He will be remembered fondly for his generous spirit, his faith, and the joy he brought to those around him.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to the University Baptist Church in Union Park, FL, the American Cancer Society, or Hospice in Raybert's memory.

Tribute Wall

“ Worked with Raybert many years ago. He was a great guy and he got along well with the entire team. 🙏

Joe carfagno - December 02, 2025 at 06:51 PM