“ Bob was truly one of those special few people we hope to be lucky enough to know and consider a friend in our lifetime. He, his late wife Elladean and surviving daughter Eileen who lived at home with them have been my neighbor for over 35 years. I and my late wife Brenda and my daughter Laura (Read) were treated like his own daughter and grandchild and always felt more like family than neighbors. Bob was one of the most kind hearted and truly intelligent gentleman I believe I will ever know. He was totally devoted to his family. For many years he has selflessly cared for his lovely wife Elladean whom he lost earlier this year, and his beautiful daughter Eileen who has lived many years with them both while fighting her own battle with a debilitating illness herself. His son Robert and his wife and two daughters who live in the Chicago area have been able to spend much quality time with them in recent years and my heart goes out to them and the rest of his extended family in their time of loss. I only knew Bob to have one personal outlet over these many years and it was his baking. I will miss those evenings when I'd get a call from him wanting to know if he could bring over a couple of his special carrot cakes or fresh blueberry muffins. They were delicious and he always seemed to so enjoy sharing the bounty. There are so many little memories of Bob's warm heartedness over the years I've known him. We all have so few friends in our lives that make a memorable difference to us over the years. Bob Straiton has always been and will always be on my personal short list of special gentleman in my life. Thank you Bob. May all your loved ones who have gone before be waiting there to welcome you home.

I will miss you greatly sir.
