

Ryan Joseph Moench

April 2, 1984 - February 16, 2017

Ryan Joseph Moench, 32, of Orlando, Florida, passed away Thursday, February 16, 2017.

Ryan is survived by his son Hayden; mother, Rachelle Yvonne Moench; father, Thomas Moench; brother, Lonnie Moench (wife, Tiffany); brother, Nick Moench; nephews, Khalil, Aizik, and Emry; uncle, Bruce LaPointe; uncle, Wayne LaPointe; aunt, Joyce Culp (Dave Culp); and cousins, Corey, John, and Nicole.

Ryan loved boating, riding jet skies with Hayden, holiday carnivals, bike riding. The redneck side of him loved going mudding with his good friend Joey, Hayden, and so many other friends. Ryan was a welder most of his working life and could build anything from the ground up. Ryan knew how much he was loved by his family and the many many friends he had in return. He brought smiles and laughter to all of us. Ryan never met a stranger and will never be forgotten. We are all blessed to have had Ryan touch our lives. He will live on through his son, Hayden.

There will be a visitation for friends on Wednesday, February 22, 2017 from 4PM-7PM at Good Life Funeral Home, located at 8408 East Colonial Drive, Orlando, Florida 32817. Services will begin at 6PM.

“ Ryancoot.... You were on my mind. Gosh I practically grew up with you...Mommacoot was the best Mom I knew.... You and Lonnard were the best given brothers I knew....I didn't pick you all as friends but God placed you all in front of me..to give me the experience of memories that of an unconditional family. I felt more love and learned more with your family than I have ever of my own.

We are all unconditionally ourselves and Ryan you were the ringleader for sure 😊 Your infectious laugh, but you could back it up with smarts no one would ever figure coming out of your mouth. You spoke the truth always, and did whatever in the moment you felt in your heart. You had a wild courageous personality but the biggest heart I've ever known. Love you always Ryancoot

“ Some of my favorite memories were of the way you were with Hayden.

Hayden, your Daddy loved you so much. He never let you be bored. You were always at the Science Center or the Springs, Sea World, Aquatica or some theme park or FunSpot or the jump center or the movies or a fair or one of your favorite restaurants (like Jack 'N Mary's or that big ice cream cone place). He loved to cook for you as well. You'll see in your pictures that you always had the coolest clothes & toys & shoes, but more importantly he got you ant farms and science kits & tech stuff to help you develop your mind. Your father was very intelligent and he knew you were as well. You were always impressing and surprising him by saying funny & clever things and he bragged about you to everyone he met... He also let you do crazy stuff to toughen you up like building you bike & scooter ramps (wood & welded) & letting you climb trees & roofs (things that made you fearless but gave everyone else heart attacks). He also made sure you knew how to work with your hands and weren't scared. That was one of your father's gifts, he could build or fix anything, and he saw early on that you have that gift as well. He loved his nephews and his family so much too and he made sure you saw your cousins at every event.

Hayden, I hope you always remember that even though you lost your daddy too soon, for the time you had him, no one ever loved a child more than your daddy loved you. There are some photos & videos of your time together & you'll always cherish those but I want you to know that the most important moments weren't recorded... There were a million moments shared between you and your Daddy that can never be taken away; the things he taught you and the love he poured into your heart that will carry you through this life. You were his world, you were his life... please don't forget that as much as he loved his family and his many friends, you, Hayden, brought him most of the peace and sense of purpose and joy that he knew on this earth.

“ I was lucky enough to know Ryan every day for years as a young boy, I was stepfather I have so many wonderful memories of Brian and his brother Lonnie and the rest of the family He had such a wonderful love of life, a sparkle in his eyes at such a young age. He was a very astute young man. I remember when he learned the F word and for some reason he imitated a parrot on that one It would come out and me and Rachelle I would be laughing trying to tell him it wasn't the right thing to say. I remember when you got a T-shirt that said Flying Ryan on it and he would fly around with all his energy He was a very loving and very selfless man all the time. He cried when Mark the shark (his fish) died after jumping out of the fishbowl when we are cleaning the bigger cage He gave wonderful hugs. His innovative spirit always had him in creating new things He recognized I loved his mother first , before I even did. The night we found them soaking wet beside the water bed on the floor sleeping. It took us till the next day that Lonnie had woken up and Peed on him and went back to sleep We tried for an hour to figure out why he was so wet and asleep It was in until the next day Ryan loved yard sales and would always come back with junk, of course there are pieces of art to him His Humour, his compassion and love that I saw with the other people land has pets , and were so generous and warm. He taught me unconditional love He taught me you fall in love with your children He will ever live in my heart He was one of the most genuinely beautiful people inside and outside that I ever had the pleasure to have known His wonderful love for this child, so understated I have no words to define. He touched so many lives, bringing hope, happiness and Humour to them. The examples he set as a person and a human being would be a difficult task to equal He lived life on his own rules and set a very difficult example for us to follow

Ryan felt the hurt but he definitely bathed in the beauty of his world and by doing so he made everyone of our lives brighter. He made a difference in the world and everyone of us And he still does He is the stuff legends are made of I have loved daily for more than 30 years without an even close to a bad memory.

And amazing man who taught me much about life I love you Ryan and I'm so, so sorry for those that will not be with you anymore, physically; and for those that never got the gift to meet you. You truly are a heavenly sent angel.

“ My most treasured might not be my most favorite lol but it's one I will never forget Ryan doing to me. It was new yrs eve we were hanging at Dan an Melindas house an unbeknownst to me, an keep in mind that I don't drink... Ryan swapped my sprite for MOONSHINE!! I took a big ole sip thinking it was soda an instead of swallowing it I spewed it in the sink an around the sink.i turned around thinking what the hell was that, something that tasted like gasoline an there stood Ryan with that shit eating grin. All I could say was Ryan!! An believe me any other time I was around him with a glass of something I would smell it first. I still owe you one Ryan Joseph! I will love an miss you as long as I live, you left us way to soon an had so much life in you to live with Hayden!!
