“ I get it in waves Mom, and it sucks!! I miss you so much. Nikki's birthday was on the 1st, John's birthday was a couple days ago, today is BJ's birthday, Timothy's birthday is coming up and so is Christmas. I know that you're with me, but it's not the same. I want to hear your voice and hug you, I want you to irritate me. I love and miss you so much.

“ Mom I cannot believe it has been a year since you went home to Heaven. It feels like yesterday. I still find myself wanting to call or run down the street to talk....then remember your not there. I talk to you almost every day and pray you hear me. Mom please know how much I love and miss you. Until I see you again.... I love you

“ Hi Mom. Well, it's Thanksgiving morning and I am really really missing you. No making our lists this year. BY and I did our Thanksgiving shopping online this year, you would love that. I know, that you know, that I think of you everyday. Missing you. I love you

Darla Brown - November 28, 2019 at 09:24 AM

“ Mom that candle is for you on Mothers Day. .So proud of Darla, Heather, John and Myself....After mothers day breakfast yesterday we all went to your house and shared beautiful memories as we placed you in our chosen pieces..... I told Shan I needed to go pick you up....I think he is still scratching his head...lol.... Darla and I took you out for soup for Mothers day dinner the waitress said next time you come bring someone new...I showed her my necklace and said I did.... I brought my MOM...Darla did the same and reminded her to cherish her mom while she can because you just cant imagine how hard it will be without her. MOM....this is super hard. I screen shotted an image of you telling me Happy Mothers Day on FB memories just because I new I would not be getting that message from you this year....and although you are not here to read the Happy Mothers Day message I sent you...I sent it anyway. We take for granted the time we have. Always thinking there will be another day another moment another memory to be made.... then we sit here and type this message because we cant have another day, moment or make a new memory. I love and MISSSSSSSSS you. <3..<3...<3....xoxoxoxo

“ Mom, Mother's Day is this Sunday. I don't know how this is going to be for us. I would give anything to have you here, I miss you so much! Some days are better than others, but I'm not used to not having you in my life. I love you and miss you so much. You are always on my mind and in my heart. I love you

Darla Brown - May 10, 2019 at 05:53 PM

Well we made it through the day. Mothers day was not the same but I am glad we all shared it together.

“ Mom I know I dont have yo post here to talk with you but sometimes putting in on here helps me. I have had so many memories rush over me the last couple of weeks I enjoy seeing some of the old things but I have to say I do not like going through the house...I dont want to get rid of a thing unfortunately my house is not large enough to hold it all....I love looking at your old drawings and art work you made for Gammy when you were 5....WOW.... I am the keeper of the BIBLES for the family which are amazing to see as well all the writings from the family in them awesome.....although I enjoy learning and seeing these things from our family I would much rather have you....I miss you mom the family needs you so please keep watching over us all and help nudge us in the right direction so we remain in Gods path and see you again. I love you mom thanks for listening.

“ I was a math student at the time that Sandy was teaching at Valencia Community College. She always tried to help me even tho I was in a self paced class. During a visit to her office on one occasion, Sandy lightly smacked me in the back of the head and ordered me to do what she had previously explained to me to do on a math problem. I realized at that moment that I had already known how to do the problem. It just took for her to knock some sense in to my head so that I could figure it out! It really was funny! What a great gift she had in teaching! She will be greatly missed! Holly Taylor

“ Sande's One tough cookie that couldn't break. Raising them kids was no walk in the park. Ha At least junior. Ha ha The fact that all turned out great and strong as she is testimony to her great job. Now hopefully Bj, Heather , Dar and junior can use that strength to heal like we all know she would want. Peace and happiness from my family to hers.

“Ms. Sande, my heart broke in little pieces when I heard the news earlier this afternoon. I remember our last conversation, trying to catch up on how retirement life was treating you and how I was doing. From the first day I met you as a new employee sharing the same building space, you were always there to help me navigate through things and answer my many questions. When you retired, it was indeed a sad day. I will always remember your kindness; you were a beacon of hope and strength, and I will remember you that way going forward. You will be missed, but NEVER forgotten. May you rest in peace eternally and until then, enjoy your rest. My sincere condolences to Darla and the rest of your family.

“ God chooses special people to come along side us in our journey to help us find our way. Sande was one of those people in my life and the lives of many others. There is no one quite like our Mom to take on that role. I was most blessed to have my own wonderful Mom and my second Mom, Sande. When I came to Valencia as a young teacher, Sande was just like a second Mom in my life. She helped me find my way and made such an amazing difference in my journey. Sande, you know I even called you "Mom" on many occasions and I know someday I will get to tell you that again. Thank you for all you gave to me and for bringing God's presence into my life. My thoughts and prayers to the Staaf family, especially you Darla. I am always just down the hall if you have a need. Thanks again "Mom" for everything.

“ Mom what can I say that you dont already know. You are the strongest woman I know. You were able to pick up the pieces and hold us together....during which time you were working 3 or 4 jobs and going to school....completing 2 degrees an AA and AS bought a home and just si much more. I was blessed to have my mom so close to me allowing me to visit as often as I wanted....however i want more time... Mom I dint know what GOD has planned for the rest of my life but it's so hard to imagine it without you physically right here next to me. My heart aches that I cant just run down and chat....but I know I will be seeing you again.....I remember the verse you always shared with me when we read scripture....John:14 1-3

1. Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.
- 2.in my fathers house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.
3. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you into myself; that were I am, there ye may be also.

I love you mom and will be with you again....BJ

“ I know that you are still with me because we will never break the bond that we have!
You were not just a great mother but a great friend as well.

Thank you for putting up with all my antics and shenanigans, to put it politely.

I will always love you and miss you deeply.

While you are up there say hello to gammy and papa ,and our buddy Phil.

I'll talk to you tomorrow on the beach.(I'll bring Sun block and a candle).

“ I was just a kid with a crush on her Daughter. It was like seventh grade and I would do anything just to hang out with " Darla" and Mom(Sandra)knew it. and very skillfully played it to her advantage. I cleaned her oven, defrosted her freezer. It was a long yet short summer. She was a great friend she made ms laugh and I'll never look at fudge the same way again.

Love ya Sandy and I hope you enjoy your new beginnings. ❤️
