“ Billy touched the lives of everyone he came into contact with. He was always smiling and happy. Even with Down Syndrome preventing him from being able to verbally communicate, he found ways to make others laugh and feel his love for them. I remember as a little girl, and even as an adult, Billy would say "It's okay" and in that moment, everything was right with the world.

Billy is resting peacefully now, with his parents. He can now sing and dance with Grandma and live the wonderful life he always deserved in Heaven.

We love you and will miss you greatly, Billy.
