“ There were good days and bad days for Bill, but one thing for sure is that he was loved by his family. He is the only Uncle that told me "It's OK to say NO sometimes"...seems so simple now that I think about it, but he knew that I needed to hear that. I will always remember. RIP in Uncle Bill.....

“ Rest in peace Uncle Bill, I enjoyed family time when we would visit. May the Dear Lord Bless and keep you and may the Dear Lord wrap his arms around my dear and loving cousins during this difficult time.

“ *Bill McClarren and I were married Saturday July 6, 1963. We had three children together:
William Mark (Billy), Jacqueline (Jackie) and Anthony.
Granddaughter Kathryn Leona McClarren Cox.*

Bill was born in Royal Oak, Michigan. December 25, 1963 to his parents:

Harry W. and Leona Etienne McClarren. His full name is William Clemence McClarren

We were divorced October 30, 2008

*Bill died quietly Wednesday January 27, 2016. Our granddaughter Kathryn and his caregiver were with him when he died.
We had a family viewing Monday, February 1, 2016*

No one expressed it better than the card I received from my nurse it says:

No one knew him like you.

No one loved him like you

She gave our children and granddaughter a card it reads:

Thinking of you and hoping you will find comfort

in special memories

We share many memories.

I thank everyone for their words of comfort, cards, prayers and Masses said for him.

Thank you one and all.

“ To my friend and mentor. I am filled with both gratitude and sadness.

Bill was a man with an enormous capacity of wisdom and friendship. His hand shake meant either yes or no, and his name was his bond. When Bill McClarren shook your hand that's all the credit you needed.

I will miss you my friend, they just don't make them like that anymore.

Until we meet again my friend....

“ As a toddler I couldn't pronounce " uncle Bill" so I called him " uncle Bull". My favorite memory of " Uncle Bull" was when he I was at my cousin's house (his daughter) and he was outside getting ready to change a tire. He looked at me and said " I'm going to tell you how to change a tire". I was happy he was going to tell me how so I say down. He laughed and said NO your changing the tire but I'm going to tell you how to do it. He really did make me change that tire. It was a fun experience. I remember when we were tightening the bolts he let me stand on the Jack bouncing. I was so serious and he was laughing because my weight wasn't cutting it. So then he finished it and told me I did a great job changing my first tire. He made me feel good about myself. He had bad back so he told me that me helping really helped him out. This is one of my favorite memories of him. I had my quality time with my uncle and learned something that I will never forgot. I also received the safety lecture that day about how important it is to know how to change my own tires so I don't have to depend on a man especially a stranger that could potentially prey on a woman in a desperate situation. Thank you uncle Bull may you rest in peace. I love you!

“ My father William was a beautiful caring man with good heart. He passed at his daughter & granddaughter home in peace the last thing he said was "I am going to sleep now".

My father enjoyed working on his antic cars, would ride bicycle rides around neighbor.

He work at Disney World when first open and then work at University of Central Florida.

He brought me my first car and made sure I knew how to change tires before driving, and I am so grateful he did. He would take us fishing and even show me how scale a fish. My Daddy was good father being there for me as child as I grew into parent myself.

You were kind and gentle daddy always understanding and being there for me.

You were wonderful daddy wanting to keep me from making mistake but let me find my own way.

He was very loving grandfather to his only granddaughter Kathryn I remember when I first brought her home from hospital, she was all bundle up in blanket with only her black hair showing and "said is there more to her" that was history he was in loved.

He taught her how ride her bike & would ride her around on lawnmower all over yard.

Heaven has gain a beautiful angel who was welcome by his mother and all family member.

I love you Daddy I will miss you so much
